TReK

by DANGEL

The first Trek by Dangel conversion on an electric vehicle.

Capabilities

Participating in the ecological transition is a must for you. But continuing your professional activity is another. And your job takes you to places that are sometimes difficult to access with a «classic» vehicle.

Dangel allows you to combine the two with the first TREK by Dangel transformation on its range of small vans with electric engines: Peugeot e-Partner, Citroën e-Berlingo, Opel Combo-e and Fiat e-Doblò.

The vehicle's height, protection of sensitive parts and improved traction will allow you to tackle trails, paths or other «off-road» areas with peace of mind and safety. All while preserving the environment and being perfectly silent.

Decisive advantages

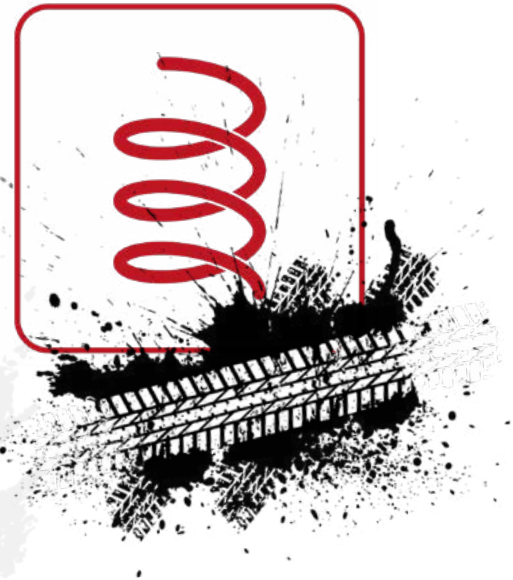

More motricity

The vehicle's front axle incorporates a QUAIFE® limited-slip front differential : the benchmark in the automotive industry. When one of the front wheels loses traction, the LS transfers some of the torque to the other wheel. This can allow the vehicle to get out of the difficult situation it is in.

A raised vehicle to overcome obstacles

With a raised body and 205mm ground clearance, the vehicle dominates rural or forest roads, freeing itself from obstacles while allowing safe and comfortable driving on normal roads.

Heavy-duty protection

When you're on the road, even with an elevated vehicle, you're never safe from a stump, a rock, or a misplaced branch. The protective plates under the engine or the battery will protect you in this case and prevent you from getting stuck.

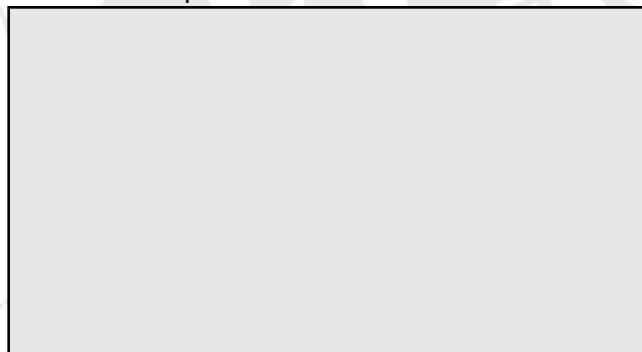

For 40 years, Automobiles Dangel, a specialist in improving the driveability of commercial vehicles, has been driven by passion, know-how and quality.

As a second stage car manufacturer, we offer two- or four-wheel drive conversions, adapted to the driveability needs of professionals and private individuals.

Our partners are Peugeot, Citroën, Opel, Fiat and Toyota.
